

Britcar Endurance Championship – Praga Category 2022

Overview of Prizes

This document serves as an overview regarding the Prizes provided by Praga to the winning drivers and the winning car (team) in the Britcar Endurance Championship – Praga Category 2022 (the „Praga Cup“) and must be interpreted in line with other documents regulating the Praga Cup – that especially being the 2022 BRITCAR ENDURANCE CHAMPIONSHIP SPORTING AND TECHNICAL REGULATIONS (the „Regulations“).

The detailed process of awarding points to individual drivers (based on which the Drivers' Prizes will be awarded) and to individual racing cars (based on which the Team's Prize will be awarded) is governed by the Regulations. If at the end of the championship in the final standings two or more drivers or two or more racing cars (teams) score an identical number of points, the final position of each driver and each racing car (team) shall be decided as per regulations specified in the Motorsport UK Yearbook 2022 (Blue book).

The individual drivers are categorised as AMATEUR or PROFESSIONAL. Please refer to the Regulations to see which drivers classify as AMATEUR and which drivers classify as PROFESSIONAL.

Grand Team Prize

- The person or entity owning the Praga R1 racing car which scored the most overall points in the Praga Cup championship shall win a used 2021/2022 Praga R1 racing car.

Grand Drivers' Prize

- The individual AMATEUR driver and the individual PROFESSIONAL driver who scored the most overall points in the Praga Cup championship in their respective category shall both win a PAID ARRIVE AND DRIVE 24 HOURS RACE, in which Praga shall procure a racing seat for them.

2nd Place Drivers' Prize

- The individual AMATEUR driver and the individual PROFESSIONAL driver who scored the second most overall points in the Praga Cup championship in their respective category shall both win an ENTRY FEE FOR RACING IN PRAGA CUP 2023 for one driver.

3rd Place Drivers' Prize

- The individual AMATEUR driver and the individual PROFESSIONAL driver who scored the third most overall points in the Praga Cup championship in their respective category shall both win one PRAGA KART.